

EN ISO 11690-2:1996

Acoustics - Recommended practice for the design of low-noise workplaces - Part 2: Noise control measures

Deals with the technical aspects of noise control in workplaces. The various technical measures are stated, the related acoustical quantities described, the magnitude of noise reduction discussed and the verification methods outlined.